Amedeo Modigliani was the epitome of a tragic artist born to a bourgeois family in Italy. He later shunned his academic upbringing and willingly devolved into a poverty-stricken vagabond. Amedeo Modigliani was the youngest of four children born to Jewish parents Flaminio and Eugenia in Livorno, Italy, home to a large Jewish community. Modigliani was born into a Jewish family of merchants as Amedeo Modigliani Paintings Bio Ideas TheArtStory - Amedeo or Dedo Modigliani was the youngest of four children born to Jewish parents Flaminio and Eugenia in Livorno, Italy, home to a large Jewish community.